

For Immediate Release

Contact: Christopher Harvin

Email: chris.harvin@barbaricum.com

Phone: 202.393.0873

BARBARICUM PARTNER BRANDON BLOODWORTH SELECTED TO ATTEND EY'S INAUGURAL VETERANS ENTREPRENEUR ACADEMY

WASHINGTON, DC -- June 12, 2015 -- Brandon Bloodworth, co-founder and partner at Barbaricum, was selected to attend Ernst & Young's first-ever Veteran Entrepreneur Academy (VEA) in late May. Held in New York City, VEA is a two-day workshop filled with networking events providing entrepreneurs who have served in the U.S. armed forces access to resources designed to take the participant's business to the next level.

The Veterans Entrepreneur Academy launched with a networking dinner on Friday, May 29 at the New York Athletic Club. The dinner featured a keynote speech by Richard Jones, Executive VP, General Tax Counsel & Chief Veteran Officer at CBS Corporation.

"Participating in the Ernst and Young's VEA was a tremendous experience in which I was able to communicate and share ideas with other successful veteran entrepreneurs," said Barbaricum Co-Founder and Partner Brandon Bloodworth. "With the first year being such a great experience, I am grateful for EY's commitment to entrepreneurs and Veteran-owned businesses and look forward to the workshop growing in the future."

About Brandon Bloodworth

Brandon Bloodworth serves on the Executive Leadership team and oversees growth and development of the firm. He has been directly involved in the financial planning, performance management, business development, operations management, and overall business performance of Barbaricum since its inception. Bloodworth also leads Barbaricum's Energy Practice and has over 15 years of professional experience supporting government and commercial clients in alternative energy, operational energy, energy efficiency, smart grids, strategy, and technology. Bloodworth received a B.S. in Engineering Management from The United States Military Academy and holds an M.B.A. in Finance from Johns Hopkins University. He also served in the U.S. Army as an Infantry Officer and was Airborne Ranger qualified. Bloodworth is a Certified Energy Manager and Project Management Professional and resides in Maryland with his wife and three daughters.

Barbaricum VEA Continued....

About Barbaricum

Founded in 2008 and headquartered in the nation's capital, Barbaricum is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business and SBA HUBZone-certified company on the GSA AIMS and MOBIS schedules. The company supports government clients with full-scale Communications, Technology-Enabled Services, Research and Analysis, Cyber Security/OSINT, as well as International Development to grow people, partnership and business.

Barbaricum ranked among INC. Magazine's 500 Fastest-Growing Companies in both 2013 and 2014, and was recently named on the Washington Post's list of Top Workplaces for 2015. Our technology driven, human-centered approach to government work resonates with the industry and has garnered us awards from SmartCEO, PR Week and the Public Relations Society of America, among others. To learn more, visit www.barbaricum.com.

###